

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

ROBERT M. REIGER,

Case No. 3:12-cv-00218-MM-VPC

Petitioner,

ORDER

v.

DWIGHT NEVENS, et al.,

Respondents.

This action is a pro se petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254, by a Nevada state prisoner. This action comes before the Court regarding petitioner's motion for leave to file a supplemental petition (dkt. no. 20), respondents' motion to dismiss the first amended petition (dkt. no. 30), respondents' motion to strike (dkt. no. 43), petitioner's motion to submit a supplemental response in opposition to the motion to dismiss (dkt. no. 45), and responses and replies to those motions.

I. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner was bound over following a preliminary hearing, and the State of Nevada filed an information in the Eighth Judicial District Court for the State of Nevada, charging petitioner with a single count of trafficking in a controlled substance and a single count of possession of a controlled substance with the intent to sell. (Exhibits 13, 14, 16.)<sup>1</sup> Count 1, the trafficking count, alleged that petitioner "possess[ed], either

1 actually or constructively, 28 grams or more, to wit, approximately 85.8 grams of 2 methamphetamine, or any mixture of substance consisting of approximately 85.8 grams
3 containing the controlled substance methamphetamine.” (Exhibit 16, at p. 2.) Count 2, 4 the possession with intent to sell count, charged petitioner with possessing heroin, 5 noting his prior convictions for trafficking from 1997 and for attempt to possess
6 controlled substance (cocaine) from 1990. (Id.)

7 Trial began on January 31, 2007, and ended on February 1, 2007. (Exhibits 28 & 8 29.) The jury returned a guilty verdict on both counts. (Exhibit 30.) The state then filed a 9 notice of intent to seek habitual offender treatment under NRS 207.010. (Exhibit 31.)

10 At sentencing, the state district court found petitioner eligible for treatment as a 11 habitual offender. (Exhibit 32.) However, the state district court only applied the habitual 12 offender finding to Count I of the information. (Exhibit 32, at pp. 6-7.) The state district 13 court imposed a sentence of life in prison with parole eligibility after serving ten (10) 14 years on Count 1. (Id.) On Count 2, the state district court imposed a maximum term of 15 180 months, with parole eligibility beginning after a minimum term of 60 months. (Id.)
16 The court ordered that the sentence on Count 2 be served concurrent to Count 1. (Id.)
17 The judgment of conviction was filed on April 6, 2007. (Exhibit 33.)

18 Petitioner filed a notice of appeal. (Exhibit 34.) Petitioner filed an opening brief 19 on March 3, 2008. (Exhibit 49.) On October 22, 2008, the Nevada Supreme Court 20 issued an order affirming petitioner’s convictions. (Exhibit 53.) Remittitur issued on 21 November 18, 2008. (Exhibit 54.)

22 On March 24, 2009, petitioner filed a motion in pro per, seeking an order setting 23 aside his verdict for insufficient evidence under NRS 175.381. (Exhibit 56.) After filing 24 his motion, petitioner retained counsel to represent him in his state post-conviction 25 habeas proceedings. (Exhibit 59.) Counsel asked that petitioner’s motion be taken off 26 the calendar and that she would re-file it at a later date, if appropriate. (Exhibit 15, at p.
27 3.) Through counsel, petitioner filed a post-conviction petition for a writ of habeas 28 corpus in the state district court on October 23, 2009. (Exhibit 57.)

1           Petitioner subsequently filed a substitution of attorney, substituting himself in 2 place of his attorney. (Exhibit 62.) Petitioner then filed a pro per document entitled 3 "Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of Petitioner's Amended Petition for 4 Writ of Habeas Corpus and an Evidentiary Hearing." (Exhibit 63.) In the memorandum, 5 petitioner raised additional claims. (Id.) On August 8, 2010, the state district judge 6 entered an order denying the petition. (Exhibit 67.)

7           Petitioner filed a notice of appeal. (Exhibit 72.) Petitioner's appeal was 8 designated as a pro per appeal, and he did not file a motion for the appointment of 9 counsel with the Nevada Supreme Court. (Exhibit 69.) The Nevada Supreme Court 10 determined that the record was sufficiently developed in the state district court and full 11 briefing was not necessary. (Exhibits 73 & 74.) By order filed March 7, 2012, the 12 Nevada Supreme Court issued an order affirming the denial of petitioner's post-13 conviction habeas petition. (Exhibit 75.) Petitioner did not seek reconsideration or 14 rehearing. (Exhibit 69.) Remittitur issued on April 4, 2012. (Exhibit 77.)

15           Petitioner dispatched his original federal habeas petition to this Court on April 2, 16 2012. (Dkt. no. 1, at p. 1.) On September 25, 2012, the Court directed respondents to 17 file an answer or other response to the petition. (Dkt. no. 11.) On October 26, 2012, 18 petitioner sought leave to amend his petition. (Dkt. no. 15.) On October 22, 2012, 19 petitioner dispatched to this Court a first amended petition containing Grounds 1-9 (dkt.
20 no. 15-1), a supplemental petition containing Grounds 10, 11, and 12 (dkt. no. 15-3, at 21 pp. 1-11), two memoranda in support of his claims (dkt. nos. 15-2 and 15-3, at pp. 13-22 24), and exhibits consisting of portions of the state court record (dkt. no. 15-3, at pp. 25-23 124 and dkt. no. 15-4), collectively referred to herein as the "first amended petition." By 24 order filed November 20, 2012, this Court granted petitioner's motion to file an amended 25 petition. (Dkt. no. 18.) The Court ordered respondents to file a response to the first 26 amended petition. (Dkt. no. 18, at p. 2.)

27           On January 18, 2013, petitioner filed a motion for leave to file a supplemental 28 petition, containing proposed grounds 13, 14, 15, and 16. (Dkt. nos. 20 & 20-1.)

1 Respondents opposed petitioner's motion. (Dkt. no. 35.) Petitioner filed a reply. (Dkt.
2 no. 38.) Petitioner filed a supplemental response to the reply. (Dkt. no. 42).
3 Respondents then filed a motion to strike petitioner's supplemental response to the 4 reply. (Dkt. no. 43.) Petitioner opposed the motion to strike. (Dkt. no. 46).

5 On April 11, 2013, respondents filed a motion to dismiss the first amended 6 petition. (Dkt. no. 30.) Petitioner opposed the motion to dismiss. (Dkt. no. 39.)
7 Respondents filed a reply regarding the motion to dismiss. (Dkt. no. 41.) Petitioner then 8 filed a request to submit a supplemental response in opposition to the motion to 9 dismiss. (Dkt. no. 45.) Respondents opposed petitioner's motion. (Dkt. no. 47.)
10 Petitioner filed a reply. (Dkt. no. 49.)

11 II. DISCUSSION

12 A. Respondents' Motion to Strike (dkt. no. 43) and Petitioner's Motion to 13 Submit a Supplemental Response (dkt. no. 45)

14 On August 5, 2013, respondents filed a motion for an order striking document 15 number 42 on the Court's docket, which is entitled petitioner's "supplement to response 16 in opposition to motion to dismiss and supplement to reply to respondents' response to 17 motion for leave to amend and supplement." (Dkt. no. 43.) Thereafter, on August 15, 18 2013, petitioner filed a motion to submit a supplement response in opposition to the 19 motion to dismiss. (Dkt. no. 45.)

20 Local Rule 7-2 of the Local Rules of Civil Practice permits the filing of a motion, a 21 response, and a reply. A document not allowed by Local Rule 7-2, or otherwise 22 permitted by order of this Court, is a fugitive document and must be stricken from the 23 record.

24 Petitioner's motion for leave to file a supplemental petition (dkt. no. 20) has been 25 fully briefed, as respondents filed a response to the motion on April 11, 2013 (dkt. no.
26 35), and petitioner filed a reply on April 26, 2013 (dkt. no. 38). Respondents' motion to 27 dismiss (dkt no. 30) has been fully briefed, as petitioner filed a response to the motion 28 on April 26, 2013 (dkt. no. 39), and respondents filed a reply on May 6, 2013 (dkt. no.

41). Leave was not obtained from this Court to file sur-replies, supplements, or documents other than what is permitted in standard motion practice pursuant to Local Rule 7-2, namely, a motion, a response, and a reply. As such, the Court grants respondents' motion (dkt. no. 43) to strike petitioner's "supplement" filed at dkt no. 42. Additionally, the Court denies petitioner's later-filed motion for leave to submit a supplemental response (dkt. no. 45), as good cause has not been shown to deviate from the motion practice permitted by Local Rule 7-2.

B. Respondents' Motion to Dismiss the First Amended Petition (dkt. no. 30)

As recited above, by order filed November 20, 2012, this Court granted petitioner's motion to file an amended petition and ordered respondents to respond. (Dkt. no. 18.) In response, respondents argue that the first amended petition (dkt. no. 15) is untimely because the claims in the first amended petition do not relate back to the original petition. (Dkt. no. 30.) Respondents further argue that certain grounds of the first amended petition are unexhausted and procedurally defaulted. (Id.) The Court will address each argument in turn.

1. Timeliness Under the AEDPA and Mayle Relation-back

a. AEDPA Statue of Limitations

The Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act (AEDPA) amended the statutes controlling federal habeas corpus practice to include a one-year statute of limitations on the filing of federal habeas corpus petitions. With respect to the statute of limitations, the habeas corpus statute provides:

(d)(1) A 1-year period of limitation shall apply to an application for a writ of habeas corpus by a person in custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court. The limitation period shall run from the latest of—

(A) the date on which the judgment became final by the conclusion of direct review or the expiration of the time for seeking such review;

(B) the date on which the impediment to filing an application created by State action in violation of the Constitution or laws of the United States is removed, if the applicant was prevented from filing by such State action;

(C) the date on which the constitutional right asserted was initially recognized by the Supreme Court, if the right has been newly recognized by the Supreme Court and made retroactively applicable to cases on collateral review; or

(D) the date on which the factual predicate of the claim or claims presented could have been discovered through the exercise of due diligence.

(2) The time during which a properly filed application for State post-conviction or other collateral review with respect to the pertinent judgment or claim is pending shall not be counted toward any period of limitations under this subsection.

28 U.S.C. § 2244(d). Although 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(2) provides for tolling of the AEDPA statute of limitations when “a properly filed application for state post-conviction or other collateral review with respect to the pertinent judgment or claim is pending,” the filing of a federal petition does not toll the AEDPA statute of limitations. Duncan v. Walker, 533 U.S. 167, 181-82 (2001).

b. Timeliness Analysis of Original Petition and First Amended Petition

In the present case, petitioner’s judgment of conviction was entered on April 6, 2007. (Exhibit 33.) The Nevada Supreme Court’s order, affirming the conviction on direct review, was filed on October 22, 2008. (Exhibit 53.) Petitioner had ninety (90) days from that date to seek certiorari with the United States Supreme Court. Bowen v. Roe, 188 F.3d 1157, 1158-60 (9th Cir. 1999). Petitioner’s conviction became final 90 days later, on January 20, 2009, at the expiration of the time period to file an application for certiorari with the United States Supreme Court. See Bowen v. Roe, 188 F.3d 1157 (9th Cir. 1999); 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1)(A); Nevada Supreme Court Rules, Rule 13(1). Petitioner then had one year in which to file the federal habeas petition, unless the time was otherwise tolled by federal statute.

Petitioner filed his state post-conviction habeas petition on October 23, 2009, which was 276 days after the finality date of his conviction. (Exhibit 57.) The statute of limitations was tolled during the litigation of petitioner’s state post-conviction habeas

1 petition, with 89 days remaining under the AEDPA statute of limitations. Remittitur
2 issued from petitioner's state post-conviction habeas appeal on April 4, 2012. (Exhibit
3 77.) Petitioner dispatched his original federal habeas petition to this Court on April 2, 4 2012. (Dkt. no. 1, at p. 1).<sup>2</sup> Thus, the original federal petition was timely filed.

5 When remittitur issued from the Nevada Supreme Court on April 4, 2012, tolling
6 of the AEDPA statute of limitations ceased. As a result, the limitations period expired
7 eighty-nine (89) days later, on July 2, 2012. The first amended petition was dispatched 8 to this Court on October 22, 2012, containing Grounds 1-9 (dkt. no. 15-1), a 9 supplemental petition containing Grounds 10, 11, and 12 (dkt. no. 15-3, at pp. 1-11), 10 two (2) memoranda in support of his claims (dkt. nos. 15-2 and 15-3, at pp. 13-24), and 11 exhibits consisting of portions of the state court record (dkt. no. 15-3, at pp. 25-124 and 12 dkt. no. 15-4). The first amended petition was filed after the expiration of the AEDPA 13 statute of limitations. 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1)(A). Therefore, the Court must determine if 14 the claims raised in the first amended petition relate back to the original petition, 15 pursuant to Mayle v. Felix, 545 U.S. 644, 664 (2005).

16 c. Relation-back Standard under *Mayle

17 Under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15, an amended pleading "relates back" to 18 the original pleading only if the acts described in the amended pleading are set forth in 19 the original pleading. Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(c)(2). An amended habeas petition only relates 20 back if the amended claims are tied to the "same core of operative facts" as alleged in 21 the original petition. Mayle v. Felix, 545 U.S. 644, 664 (2005). In Mayle, the petitioner 22 originally raised only a Confrontation Clause claim in his habeas petition, based on the 23 admission of video-taped prosecution witness testimony. 545 U.S. at 648-49. After the 24 one-year AEDPA statute of limitations had passed, petitioner then sought to amend his 25 habeas petition to allege a Fifth Amendment claim based on coercive police tactics

26 <sup>2</sup>The federal petition indicates that petitioner mailed his petition on April 2, 2012.
27 (dkt. no. 1, at p. 1). Pursuant to the "mailbox rule," federal courts deem the filing date of 28 a document as the date that it was given to prison officials for mailing. Houston v. Lack, 487 U.S. 266, 270 (1988).

1 used to obtain damaging statements from him. Id. The factual basis for each claim was 2 distinct. Petitioner then argued that his amended claim related back to the date of his 3 original habeas petition because the claim arose out of the same trial, conviction or 4 sentence. Id. at 659-661. In rejecting petitioner's argument the Supreme Court held 5 that if "claims asserted after the one-year period could be revived simply because they 6 relate to the same trial, conviction, or sentence as a timely filed claim, AEDPA's 7 limitation period would have slim significance." Id. at 662.

8 The Mayle decision placed particular emphasis on the specific pleading 9 requirement in Rule 2(c) of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases in the United 10 States District Courts and the word "occurrences" within Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(c). The 11 focus of Rule 2(c) of the federal habeas rules and the fact that notice pleading is 12 insufficient to satisfy the specific pleading requirement demonstrates that conclusory 13 allegations from the original petition that do not point to any specific facts that, if proven 14 to be true, would entitle a petitioner to relief may not be relied upon for relation back 15 purposes in the habeas context. Mayle, 545 U.S. at 656-61. In other words, the 16 amended claim must rely on a common core of operative facts as the facts pled in the 17 original petition. If the original petition is merely conclusory and fails to point to operative 18 facts — facts that would entitle the petitioner to relief if proven to be true — the 19 conclusory allegations from the original timely petition are insufficient to satisfy Mayle's 20 standard for relation back.

21 The Mayle Court's focus on the word "occurrences" and its relationship to the 22 specific pleading requirement demonstrates that the key focus of the Mayle standard is 23 whether the claims in an untimely amended petition rely on a factual predicate that 24 differs in time or type from the factual predicate that underlies the claims in the original, 25 timely petition. Id.; see also Schneider v. McDaniel, 674 F.3d 1144, 1151-52 (2012).
26 Furthermore, that a claim shares some facts in common with previous claims is 27 insufficient; the entire factual predicate of the amended claim must relate back to the 28 original petition to avoid dismissal under 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d). Schneider, 674 F.3d at 1 1151. Accordingly, any claims relying on a factual predicate that are not related in both 2 time and type to the facts pled in the original petition will not relate back and are time-3 barred.

4 d. Application of Mayle Relation-back to First Amended Petition

5 (1) Ground 1

6 In Ground 1 of the first amended petition, petitioner asserts three main sub-7 claims: (1) there was insufficient evidence to support his conviction for trafficking in a 8 controlled substance (methamphetamine) on count 1 of the information; (2) counsel was 9 ineffective for not moving to dismiss count 1 of the information, trafficking in a controlled 10 substance (methamphetamine), based on insufficient evidence; and (3) counsel was 11 ineffective for failing to raise a claim on direct appeal challenging alleged defects in the 12 testing procedures used by the State's drug expert. (Dkt. no. 15-1, at pp. 3-5.)

13 Petitioner raised a similar claim in Ground 3 of the original petition. (Dkt. no. 1, 14 pp. 18-19.) Ground 3 of the original petition challenges the sufficiency of the evidence 15 presented at trial and asserts that trial counsel was ineffective for failing to ask 16 questions during cross-examination of the State's drug expert about the weight of the 17 drugs she actually tested. (Dkt. no. 1, at pp. 18-19.)

18 The portion of Ground 1 of the first amended petition that there was insufficient 19 evidence to support his conviction for trafficking in a controlled substance 20 (methamphetamine) on count 1 of the information relates back to the original petition, as 21 it is tied to the same core of operative facts.

22 As noted by petitioner in his opposition (dkt. no. 39), Ground 3 of the original 23 petition incorporates the pleadings attached to the same. (Dkt. no. 1, at p. 19.) 24 Attached to the original petition is petitioner's memorandum of points and authorities in 25 support of his state habeas petition. (Dkt. no. 1, at pp. 58-98; Exhibit 63.) Pursuant to 26 Rule 10(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure: "A copy of a written instrument that 27 is an exhibit to the pleading is a part of the pleading for all purposes." Fed. R. Civ. P.
28 10(c). Rule 12 of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases in the United States District

Courts provides that: "The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, to the extent that they are not inconsistent with any statutory provisions or these rules, may be applied to a proceeding under these rules." Petitioner's memorandum of points and authorities in support of his state habeas petition is considered part of the original petition. See Dye v. Hofbauer, 546 U.S. 1, 4 (2005) (holding that Fed. R. Civ. P. 10(c) applies to federal habeas corpus proceedings, such that exhibits to the pleading are considered part of the pleading). The memorandum to petitioner's state habeas petition asserts a claim that, "at trial, defense attorneys were ineffective for failure to move the court to dismiss Count I on grounds [that] the prosecution failed to present sufficient evidence that petitioner possessed 28 grams or more of methamphetamine." (Dkt. no. 1, at pp. 95-97; Exhibit 63, at pp. 38-40.) The portion of Ground 1 of the first amended petition that alleges that counsel was ineffective for not moving to dismiss count 1 of the information based on insufficient evidence, relates back to the state habeas petition, which was incorporated into the original petition, as it is tied to the same core of operative facts.

As to the portion of Ground 1 of the first amended petition alleging that counsel was ineffective for failing to raise a claim on direct appeal challenging alleged defects in the testing procedures used by the State's drug expert, this claim was also raised in the memorandum to petitioner's state habeas petition, which is attached to the original federal habeas petition. (Dkt no 1, at p. 97; Exhibit 63, at p. 40.) This portion of Ground 1 thus relates back to the state petition, which is incorporated into the original petition, as it is tied to the same core of operative facts.

Respondents' motion to dismiss the above-discussed portions of Ground 1 of the first amended petition is denied, as the claims relate back to the original petition and the attached memorandum to petitioner's state habeas petition.

(2) Ground 10

Ground 10 of the first amended petition alleges that counsel was ineffective for failing to object and to move for dismissal of the charge of trafficking in a controlled substance, based on the State's expert commingling the substances from different

1 packages without first testing each individual package. (Dkt. no. 15-3, at p. 3-4.)
2 Ground 3 of the original petition challenges whether the testimony of the State's expert 3 witness was sufficient to sustain a conviction for trafficking because the expert only 4 tested 9 out of 11 packages from exhibit 1-B and did not testify to the actual weight of 5 each package she tested. (Dkt. no. 1, at pp. 18-19.) Ground 3 of the original petition 6 also asserted that counsel was ineffective for not adequately questioning the State's 7 expert regarding the weight of the substances actually tested. (Dkt. no. 1, at pp. 18-19.)
8 Ground 1 of the original petition included factual allegations inferring that the State's 9 drug expert's testimony regarding the results of her testing may have been inaccurate 10 as a result of her rushing or mislabeling the different packages she tested. (Dkt. no. 1, 11 at pp. 12-14.) However, there are no allegations in the original petition asserting that 12 the State's drug expert commingled the substances she tested with substances that she 13 did not test, or that counsel should have entered an objection to the alleged 14 commingling of the substances from trial exhibit 1-B. The allegations in Ground 10 of 15 the amended petition, regarding commingling of substances and counsel's failure to 16 lodge an objection regarding the alleged commingling, are not related in time and type 17 to the facts pled in the original petition. Mayle, 545 U.S. at 656-61; Schneider, 674 F.3d 18 at 1151. Ground 10 does not relate back to the original petition and is time-barred.
19 Ground 10 is dismissed with prejudice as untimely.

20 (3) Ground 11

21 Ground 11 of the first amended petition asserts a claim of ineffective assistance
22 of counsel for failing to independently investigate the substances petitioner possessed 23 and failing to hire or consult with an expert for independent testing. (Dkt. no. 15-3, at p.
24 6.) There are no allegations in the original petition that trial counsel failed to 25 independently investigate the substances tested by the State's drug expert, or that 26 counsel should have hired or consulted with an expert for independent testing of the 27 substances in question. (Dkt. no. 1.) The allegation that trial counsel was ineffective for 28 failing to independently investigate the substances petitioner possessed and failing to

1 hire or consult with an expert for independent testing, are not related in time and type to 2 the facts pled in the original petition. Mayle, 545 U.S. at 656-61; Schneider, 674 F.3d at 3 1151. Ground 11 does not relate back to the original petition and is time-barred.
4 Ground 11 is dismissed with prejudice as untimely.

5 (4) Ground 12

6 Ground 12 of the first amended petition alleges a violation of petitioner's rights to 7 due process, equal protection, a fair trial, and the effective assistance of counsel. (Dkt.
8 no 15-3, at pp. 8-9.) Petitioner bases these claims on allegations that the State failed to 9 maintain the evidence in its original packaging, and that counsel failed to object to the 10 State's failure to maintain the evidence in its original packaging. (Id.) These allegations 11 are not contained within the original petition and are not related in time and type to the 12 facts pled in the original petition. Mayle, 545 U.S. at 656-61; Schneider, 674 F.3d at 13 1151. Ground 12 does not relate back to the original petition and is time-barred.
14 Ground 12 is dismissed with prejudice as untimely.

15 2. Unexhausted Claims of the First Amended Petition

16 a. Exhaustion Standard

17 A federal court will not grant a state prisoner's petition for habeas relief until the 18 prisoner has exhausted his available state remedies for all claims raised. Rose v.
19 Lundy, 455 U.S. 509 (1982); 28 U.S.C. § 2254(b). A petitioner must give the state 20 courts a fair opportunity to act on each of his claims before he presents those claims in 21 a federal habeas petition. O'Sullivan v. Boerckel, 526 U.S. 838, 844 (1999); see also 22 Duncan v. Henry, 513 U.S. 364, 365 (1995). A claim remains unexhausted until the 23 petitioner has given the highest available state court the opportunity to consider the 24 claim through direct appeal or state collateral review proceedings. See Casey v. Moore, 25 386 F.3d 896, 916 (9th Cir. 2004); Garrison v. McCarthy, 653 F.2d 374, 376 (9th Cir.
26 1981).

27 A habeas petitioner must "present the state courts with the same claim he urges 28 upon the federal court." Picard v. Connor, 404 U.S. 270, 276 (1971). To satisfy

1 exhaustion, each of petitioner's claims must have been previously presented to the 2 Nevada Supreme Court, with references to a specific constitutional guarantee, as well 3 as a statement of facts that entitle petitioner to relief. Koerner v. Grigas, 328 F.3d 1039, 4 1046 (9th Cir. 2002). The federal constitutional implications of a claim, not just issues of 5 state law, must have been raised in the state court to achieve exhaustion. Ybarra v.
6 Sumner, 678 F. Supp. 1480, 1481 (D. Nev. 1988) (citing Picard, 404 U.S. at 276)). To 7 achieve exhaustion, the state court must be "alerted to the fact that the prisoner [is] 8 asserting claims under the United States Constitution" and given the opportunity to 9 correct alleged violations of the prisoner's federal rights. Duncan v. Henry, 513 U.S.
10 364, 365 (1995); see Hiivala v. Wood, 195 F.3d 1098, 1106 (9th Cir. 1999). It is well 11 settled that 28 U.S.C. § 2254(b) "provides a simple and clear instruction to potential 12 litigants: before you bring any claims to federal court, be sure that you first have taken 13 each one to state court." Jiminez v. Rice, 276 F.3d 478, 481 (9th Cir. 2001) (quoting 14 Rose v. Lundy, 455 U.S. 509, 520 (1982)).

15 A claim is not exhausted unless the petitioner has presented to the state court 16 the same operative facts and legal theory upon which his federal habeas claim is based.
17 Bland v. California Dept. Of Corrections, 20 F.3d 1469, 1473 (9th Cir. 1994). The 18 exhaustion requirement is not met when the petitioner presents to the federal court facts 19 or evidence which place the claim in a significantly different posture than it was in the 20 state courts, or where different facts are presented at the federal level to support the 21 same theory. See Nevius v. Sumner, 852 F.2d 463, 470 (9th Cir. 1988); Pappageorge v.
22 Sumner, 688 F.2d 1294, 1295 (9th Cir. 1982).

23 b. Ground 6

24 In Ground 6 of the first amended petition, petitioner alleges violation of his 25 constitutional rights to due process and a fair trial because of the trial court's admission 26 of evidence that he possessed a number of bottles of Viagra at the time of his arrest.
27 (Dkt. no.15-1, at pp. 19-21.) Respondents argue that this claim is not exhausted 28

1 because the claim was not federalized when it was presented to the Nevada Supreme 2 Court.

3 To satisfy the federal habeas exhaustion requirement, a petitioner must present 4 his claims in state court as federal claims for relief — otherwise, the claim was not fairly 5 presented to the state courts. Fields v. Washington, 401 F.3d 1018, 1021-22 (9th Cir.
6 2005). Federalization may be achieved by citing directly to the federal constitutional 7 provision at issue, or citing federal or state case law applying the applicable federal 8 constitutional provisions. Id.; see Casey v. Moore, 386 F.3d 896, 912 n.13 (9th Cir.
9 2004) (“For a federal issue to be presented by the citation of a state decision dealing 10 with both state and federal issues relevant to the claim, the citation must be 11 accompanied by some clear indication that the case involves federal issues. Where, as 12 here, the citation to the case has no signal in the text of the brief that the petitioner 13 raises federal claims or relies on state law cases that resolve federal issues, the federal 14 claim is not fairly presented.”).

15 In the instant case, Ground 6 of the first amended petition asserts that 16 petitioner’s rights to due process and a fair trial under the United States Constitution 17 were violated due to the trial court’s error in allowing the admissibility of the Viagra as 18 an uncharged bad act, and the trial court’s failure to give a limiting jury instruction on the 19 consideration of uncharged bad acts. (Dkt. no. 15-1, at p. 19.) Petitioner raised a claim 20 regarding the admissibility of the Viagra on direct appeal, however, the opening brief 21 only cited NRS 48.045 and Nevada cases applying NRS 48.045. (Exhibit 49, at pp. 12-22 13.) Petitioner’s opening brief on direct appeal did not assert that any provision of the 23 United States Constitution compelled exclusion of the evidence in question or giving the 24 jury a limiting instruction on the use of uncharged bad acts. (Id.) While petitioner did 25 cite to Tavares v. State, 117 Nev. 725, 30 P.3d 1128 (2001), which contains various 26 federal citations, none of the federal cases cited in Tavares address a claim that the 27 admission of prior bad acts evidence and the failure to give a limiting instruction on 28 consideration of prior bad acts violates the federal constitution. Therefore, the federal

1 citations in Tavares do not exhaust petitioner's allegation in Ground 6 of the first 2 amended petition that admission of the prior bad acts violated petitioner's due process
3 and fair trial rights under the United States Constitution. Thus, to the extent that Ground 4 6 asserts that the trial court erred in admitting evidence regarding his possession of 5 numerous bottles of Viagra and failure to give a limiting instruction, this portion of 6 Ground 6 is unexhausted because petitioner presented the issue to the Nevada 7 Supreme Court as only a question of state law.

8 c. Ground 10

9 Ground 10 of the first amended petition alleges that counsel was ineffective for 10 failing to object and to move for dismissal of the charge of trafficking in a controlled 11 substance based on the State's expert commingling the substances from different
12 packages without first testing each individual package. (Dkt. no. 15-3, at p. 3-4.)
13 Because claims of ineffective assistance of counsel are fact-specific theories for relief, 14 each theory of ineffective assistance of counsel must be independently exhausted; it is 15 not enough to satisfy the exhaustion requirement that the ineffective assistance of 16 counsel claim is based on similar facts to another claim the petitioner raised in state 17 court. Kelly v. Small, 315 F.3d at 1063, 1066, 1068 n.2, overruled on other grounds by 18 Robbins v. Carey, 481 F.3d 1143 (9th Cir. 2007), (noting the importance of factual 19 distinctions between different claims of ineffective assistance of counsel for purposes of 20 exhaustion). Petitioner never presented to the Nevada Supreme Court a claim that 21 counsel was ineffective for failing to object and to move for dismissal of the charge of 22 trafficking in a controlled substance based on the State's expert commingling the 23 substances from different packages without first testing each individual package.
24 (Exhibits 49, 57, 63.) Ground 10 of the first amended petition is unexhausted.

25 d. Ground 11

26 Ground 11 of the first amended petition asserts a claim of ineffective assistance
27 of counsel for failing to independently investigate the substances petitioner possessed
28 and failing to hire or consult with an expert for independent testing. (Dkt. 15-3, at p. 6.)

1 Petitioner never raised this claim to the Nevada Supreme Court. (Exhibits 49, 57, 63).
2 Ground 11 of the first amended petition is unexhausted.

3 e. Ground 12

4 Ground 12 of the first amended petition alleges a violation of petitioner's rights to 5 due process, equal protection, a fair trial, and the effective assistance of counsel. (Dkt.
6 no 15-3, at pp. 8-9.) Petitioner bases these claims on allegations that the State failed to 7 maintain the evidence in its original packaging, and that counsel failed to object to the 8 State's failure to maintain the evidence in its original packaging. (Id.) Petitioner never 9 raised this claim to the Nevada Supreme Court. (Exhibits 49, 57, 63.) Ground 12 of the 10 first amended petition is unexhausted.

11 3. Procedural Default of Napue Claim of Ground 6

12 In Ground 6 of the first amended complaint, petitioner alleges that the 13 prosecution failed to correct perjured testimony from law enforcement during trial, in 14 violation of Napue v. Illinois, 360 U.S. 264 (1959). (Dkt. no. 15-1, at p. 20.) Specifically, 15 petitioner alleges that officer Barrera's testimony concerning the bottles of Viagra in 16 petitioner's possession was perjury and that the prosecution failed to correct the false 17 testimony. (Id.)

18 The Napue claim alleged in Ground 6 of the first amended federal petition must 19 be dismissed because the claim was procedurally defaulted in the state courts, and is 20 barred from review by this Court. "Procedural default" refers to the situation where a 21 petitioner in fact presented a claim to the state courts but the state courts disposed of 22 the claim on procedural grounds, instead of on the merits. A federal court will not 23 review a claim for habeas corpus relief if the decision of the state court regarding that 24 claim rested on a state law ground that is independent of the federal question and 25 adequate to support the judgment. Coleman v. Thompson, 501 U.S. 722, 730-31 26 (1991).

27 ///

28 ///

1 The Coleman Court stated the effect of a procedural default, as follows:

2 In all cases in which a state prisoner has defaulted his federal claims in 3 state court pursuant to an independent and adequate state procedural 4 rule, federal habeas review of the claims is barred unless the prisoner can 5 demonstrate cause for the default and actual prejudice as a result of the alleged violation of federal law, or demonstrate that failure to consider the claims will result in a fundamental miscarriage of justice.

6 Coleman, 501 U.S. at 750; see also Murray v. Carrier, 477 U.S. 478, 485 (1986). The 7 procedural default doctrine ensures that the state's interest in correcting its own 8 mistakes is respected in all federal habeas cases. See Koerner v. Grigas, 328 F.3d 9 1039, 1046 (9th Cir. 2003).

10 The Napue claim alleged in Ground 6 of the first amended federal petition is the 11 same claim that petitioner raised in his state habeas petition. (Dkt no 15-1, at p. 20; 12 Exhibit 63, at p. 35.) The Nevada Supreme Court ruled that the Napue claim in the state 13 petition was barred by NRS 34.810(1)(b), because the claim could have been raised on 14 direct appeal, but was not. (Exhibit 75, at p. 1, n.2.) The Nevada Supreme Court 15 concluded that petitioner failed to demonstrate good cause or prejudice and that the 16 district court did not err in denying post-conviction relief. (Id.) The Ninth Circuit Court of 17 Appeals has held that, at least in non-capital cases, application of the procedural bar at 18 issue in this case — NRS 34.810 — is an independent and adequate state ground. Vang
19 v. Nevada, 329 F.3d 1069, 1073-75 (9th Cir. 2003); see also Bargas v. Burns, 179 F.3d 20 1207, 1210-12 (9th Cir. 1999). This Court finds that the Nevada Supreme Court's 21 holding that the Napue claim was procedurally barred under NRS 34.810 was an 22 independent and adequate ground for the court's dismissal.

23 If a claim is procedurally defaulted in state court, federal habeas review is barred 24 unless the petitioner can demonstrate cause for the default and actual prejudice as a 25 result of the alleged violation of federal law, or demonstrate that failure to consider the 26 claims will result in a fundamental miscarriage of justice. Coleman, 501 U.S. at 750. To 27 demonstrate cause for a procedural default, the petitioner must be able to "show that 28 some objective factor external to the defense impeded" his efforts to comply with the 1 state procedural rule. Murray, 477 U.S. at 488 (emphasis added). In the opposition, 2 petitioner concedes that the Napue claim is procedurally defaulted. (Dkt. no. 39, at pp.

3 8-10.) Petitioner has not asserted any reason for his failure to properly raise this claim 4 on direct appeal in state court. Petitioner has shown neither cause and prejudice, nor 5 that failure to consider the Napue claim within Ground 6 of the first amended petition will 6 result in a fundamental miscarriage of justice. The Napue claim within Ground 6 of the 7 first amended petition was procedurally defaulted in state court. The claim is barred 8 from review by this Court and is dismissed with prejudice.

10 C. Petitioner's Motion for Leave to File a Supplemental Petition (dkt. no. 20)

11 On January 18, 2013, petitioner filed a "motion for leave to file a supplement to 12 the supplemental petition." (Dkt. no. 20.) Along with the motion, petitioner filed a 13 proposed "supplement to the supplemental petition." (Dkt. no. 20-1.) In the proposed 14 supplement, petitioner seeks to add four (4) additional grounds to the first amended 15 petition: Grounds 13, 14, 15, and 16. (Id.)

16 The Court agrees with respondents that petitioner's motion should be construed 17 as a motion to amend the first amended petition, rather than a motion to file a 18 supplemental pleading, as petitioner seeks to add additional claims to his first amended 19 petition. See Planned Parenthood of Southern Arizona v. Neely, 130 F.3d 400, 402 (9th 20 Cir. 1997) (citations omitted); see also U.S. v. Hicks, 283 F.3d 380, 385-86 (D.C. Cir.
21 2002) (discussing the difference between amended and supplemental pleadings).
22 Amending a pleading, including a federal habeas petition, is governed by Rule 15 of the 23 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Once a pleading has been amended once as a matter 24 of course, pursuant to Rule 15(a)(1), "[i]n all other cases, a party may amend its 25 pleading only with the opposing party's written consent or with the court's leave. The 26 court should freely give leave when justice so requires." Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a)(1)(2).
27 Leave to amend is ordinarily granted unless granting leave would cause undue delay or 28 prejudice, the moving party has a dilatory motive in seeking leave to amend, or the

1 proposed amendment is futile. See Caswell v. Calderon, 363 F.3d 832, 837-40 (9th Cir.
2 2004). Respondents argue that petitioner's proposed amendments are futile because 3 his proposed amended grounds for habeas relief are untimely and unexhausted.

4 1. Application of Mayle Relation-back to Proposed Grounds

5 As explained earlier in this order, the AEDPA statute of limitations period expired 6 on July 2, 2012. Petitioner dispatched his "supplement to the supplemental petition" 7 (dkt. no. 20-1) on October 22, 2012, which contains four new grounds for relief. (Dkt.
8 no. 20-1.) The supplement dispatched on October 22, 2012, was filed after the 9 expiration of the AEDPA statute of limitations. 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1)(A). Therefore, the 10 Court must determine if the claims raised in the proposed supplemental petition relate 11 back to the original petition, pursuant to Mayle v. Felix, 545 U.S. 644, 664 (2005).

12 Petitioner seeks to add four (4) additional grounds to the first amended petition: 13 (1) Ground 13: Petitioner alleges a Confrontation Clause claim regarding the expert at 14 trial referring to the notes of a different expert that did not testify at trial, and a 15 companion ineffective assistance claim for trial counsel failing to raise an objection to 16 the trial expert's testimony (dkt. no. 20-1, at pp. 3-6); (2) Ground 14: Petitioner alleges 17 a due process claim based on the State allegedly failing to test each packet of heroin 18 and commingling the substances in different packets, and a companion ineffective 19 assistance claim based on counsel's failure to lodge an objection with the court (dkt. no.
20 20-1, at pp. 8-9); (3) Ground 15: Petitioner alleges insufficiency of the evidence, 21 asserting that the State failed to adequately prove that the five packages allegedly 22 containing heroin actually tested positive as a controlled substance, and a claim that 23 counsel was ineffective for failing to raise this claim on direct appeal (dkt. no. 20-1, at p.
24 11); and (4) Ground 16: Petitioner alleges that Nevada's general rule of reserving 25 review of ineffective assistance of counsel claims for post-conviction proceedings 26 violates his rights of due process, equal protection, and to the effective assistance of 27 counsel (dkt. no. 20-1, at pp. 13-14).

1       The only facts from the original petition that relate to the admissibility of the 2 heroin on the possession with intent to sell charge were allegations in Ground 2 of the 3 original petition that the trial court erred in allowing law enforcement officers to testify 4 that, based on their experience in law enforcement, the packaging of a controlled 5 substance in balloons is an indication of an intent to sell. (Dkt. no. 1, at p. 16.) Also, 6 Ground 2 of the original petition alleged that counsel was ineffective for not objecting to 7 the officer's testimony on the packaging of the drugs. (Id.) Proposed grounds 13, 14, 8 15, and 16, do not relate in type or time to the allegations of the original petition.
9 Additionally, the proposed grounds are unexhausted, as they were never presented to 10 the Nevada Supreme Court, a fact that is over-shadowed by the untimeliness of the 11 grounds. As such, proposed grounds 13, 14, 15, and 16 are time-barred. Allowing 12 petitioner to add time-barred claims to this habeas litigation would be futile, and, 13 therefore, petitioner's motion for leave to file a supplemental petition (dkt. no. 20) is 14 denied.

15                   2.     Petitioner's Claim of Denial of Access to Courts

16       In his motion, petitioner argues that he seeks leave to file a supplemental petition 17 because the system for accessing legal materials at Northern Nevada Correctional 18 Center (NNCC) is inadequate. (Dkt. no. 20, at pp. 2-4.) Petitioner complains that the 19 prison uses a paging system; that he has very limited access to prison law clerks who 20 are instructed not to provide assistance in drafting legal documents; and that he 21 requested materials "on the issue of the state failing to test all of the narcotics evidence 22 and/or on the subject of commingling" from federal and state courts, but he has only 23 found case law from other jurisdictions. (Id., at p. 2.)

24       Prisoners have a constitutional right of access to the courts that arises under the 25 Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. Lewis v. Casey, 518 U.S. 343, 346 26 (1996). A prisoner alleging a violation of his right of access to the courts must have 27 suffered "actual injury." Id. at 349-50. The right to access the courts is limited to direct 28 criminal appeals, habeas corpus proceedings, and civil rights actions challenging

1 conditions of confinement. Id. at 354-55. “An inmate cannot establish relevant actual 2 injury simply by establishing that his prison’s law library or legal assistance program is 3 sub-par in some theoretical sense.” Id. at 351. Rather, the inmate “must go one step 4 further and demonstrate that the library or legal assistance program hindered his efforts 5 to pursue a legal claim.” Id. The actual-injury requirement mandates that an inmate 6 “demonstrate that a nonfrivolous legal claim had been frustrated or was being impeded.” 7 Id. at 353. In Lewis v. Casey, the Supreme Court defined prisoners’ right of access to 8 the courts as simply the “right to bring to court a grievance.” Id. at 354.

9 In the instant case, petitioner cannot demonstrate that he has suffered an “actual 10 injury” regarding this habeas corpus litigation. The form petition for filing a habeas 11 petition in this Court requires a pro se litigant to provide the Court with a brief statement 12 of facts addressing why his conviction or sentence is unconstitutional. (Form Section 13 2254 Habeas Petition, at p. 3; Instructions for Filing Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus 14 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254). This Court’s record demonstrates that petitioner has had 15 the means to file an original habeas petition (dkt. no. 1). Petitioner later filed a first 16 amended petition containing Grounds 1-9 (dkt. no. 15-1), a supplemental petition 17 containing Grounds 10, 11, and 12 (dkt. no. 15-3, at pp. 1-11), two memoranda in 18 support of his claims (dkt. nos. 15-2 and 15-3, at pp. 13-24), and exhibits consisting of 19 portions of the state court record (dkt. no. 15-3, at pp. 25-124 and dkt. no. 15-4), 20 collectively referred to herein as the “first amended petition.” Petitioner has filed a 21 motion for leave to file a supplemental petition (dkt. no. 20), with a proposed 22 supplemental petition containing four new claims (dkt. no. 20-1). Petitioner has filed 23 legal briefs, oppositions, and replies to several motions. Petitioner fails to demonstrate 24 how the alleged unavailability of case law has prevented him from asserting his grounds 25 for relief. Petitioner has been given access and has filed petitions, amendments, 26 supplements, memoranda, and has engaged in extensive motion practice. That many 27 of petitioner’s proposed grounds for relief were submitted untimely and that some are 28 also unexhausted and procedurally defaulted is not the result of denial of access to the 1 courts. Petitioner has failed to substantiate his claim of denial of access to the courts, 2 and the record in this case does not support the conclusion that petitioner is being 3 deprived of access to necessary legal materials.<sup>3</sup>

4 In summary, petitioner's "motion for leave to file a supplement to the 5 supplemental petition," is denied on the basis that the proposed additional grounds for 6 relief do not relate back to the original petition, making amendment futile. Additionally, 7 the Court rejects petitioner's claims of denial of access to the courts.

8 III. CONCLUSION

9 It is therefore ordered that respondents' motion (dkt. no. 43) to strike petitioner's 10 "supplement" is granted. The supplement (dkt no. 42) is hereby stricken from the record.

11 It is further ordered that petitioner's motion to submit a supplemental response in 12 opposition to the motion to dismiss (dkt. no. 45) is denied.

13 It is further ordered that respondents' motion to dismiss portions of the first 14 amended petition (dkt no. 30) is granted in part and denied in part, as follows:

15 1. Ground 1 of the first amended petition relates back to the original petition 16 and is timely.

17 2. Grounds 10, 11, and 12 of the first amended petition do not relate back to 18 the original petition and are untimely. These grounds are also unexhausted. Grounds 19 10, 11, and 12 of the first amended petition are dismissed with prejudice as untimely.

20 3. The portion of Ground 6 of the first amended petition in which petitioner 21 alleges violation of his constitutional rights to due process and a fair trial because of the 22 trial court's admission of evidence that he possessed a number of bottles of Viagra at 23 the time of his arrest is unexhausted and is dismissed without prejudice. The Napue 24 claim within Ground 6 of the first amended petition is procedurally defaulted and is 25 dismissed with prejudice.

26 <sup>3</sup>Finally, to the extent that the majority of petitioner's complaints regarding access 27 to legal materials are limited to Northern Nevada Correctional Center (NNCC), the Court 28 notes that petitioner is no longer incarcerated at NNCC, but rather, is currently incarcerated at Southern Desert Correctional Center (SDCC). (Dkt. no. 44).

1 It is further ordered that petitioner's motion for leave to file a supplemental 2 petition (dkt. no. 20) including proposed grounds 13, 14, 15, and 16, is denied.

3 It is further ordered that respondents shall file and serve an answer to the 4 remaining grounds of the first amended petition within thirty (30) days from the entry of 5 this order. The answer shall include substantive arguments on the merits as to each 6 remaining ground of the first amended petition. No further motions to dismiss will be 7 entertained.

8 It is further ordered that petitioner shall file and serve a reply to the answer, 9 within thirty (30) days after being served with the answer.

10 It further is ordered that any further exhibits filed by the parties shall be filed with 11 a separate index of exhibits identifying the exhibits by number or letter. The CM/ECF 12 attachments that are filed further shall be identified by the number or numbers (or letter 13 or letters) of the exhibits in the attachment. The hard copy of any additional exhibits 14 shall be forwarded — for this case — to the staff attorney in Reno, Nevada.
